Notes to the Financial Statements

March 31, 1973

Note 1: Accounts receivable consist of the following:

	1973	1972
Sundry debtors, less allowance for doubtful accounts	$ 1,006	$ 1,809
Province of Alberta	475	428
Government of Canada	97	68
	$ 1,578	$ 2,305

Note 2: Buildings, plant, furnishings and equipment are stated in the Balance Sheet at original cost. Buildings in the course of construction have been included in the assets of the University to the extent of construction costs incurred to March 31, 1973.

No provision has been made for depreciation. Independent appraisals completed during the years ended March 31, 1950 and 1967 indicated that values have been maintained through repairs and renewals which have been financed from revenues and reserve funds.

Note 3: Due from operating funds, $5,216 represents unexpended capital funds in the form of short term deposits held with operating funds. The source of these funds is as follows:

Capital provided by the Province of Alberta	$ 3,682
Capital surplus	4,811
	8,493
Less: Expenditure in excess of mortgage draws	3,277
	$ 5,216

	$ 2,163

Note 6: An actuarial evaluation, dated April 5, 1971, based on certain actuarial assumptions, indicated that as at March 31, 1970, the Academic Pension Plan Fund assets together with future contributions of present academic staff members at The University of Alberta and The University of Calgary, and a matching contribution to be made by the Universities, will be insufficient by an amount of $17, 629 to meet liabilities of the Fund.

A supplemental actuarial report dated November, 1971 prepared on a revised actuarial basis indicates a deficit of $20,676 as at March 31, 1970.

Under the provisions of Section 24, Subsection 4, of The Universities Act payment of all benefits is guaranteed by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

Note 7: Of the funds received from the Three Alberta Universities Capital Fund a balance of $2,107 is eligible for matching by the Province of Alberta when expended on approved capital projects.

Note 8: The University has a contingent liability of approximately $516 in respect to guarantees given to secure bank loans to assist faculty members in purchasing homes.

Note 9: The University has commitments of approximately $2,910 in respect to construction projects contracted and in progress as at March 31, 1973, which are not reflected in the Balance Sheet.

Note 10: In 1973 the University adopted a policy of charging to departments certain staff benefits previously included with miscellaneous expense. The 1972 figures were not restated.

With the foregoing exception, for comparative purposes the 1972 figures have been restated where necessary to conform to 1973 presentation.

Auditor's Report

Board of Governors
The University of Alberta
Edmonton, Alberta

I have examined the Balance Sheet and the Statement of Long Term Debt of The University of Alberta as at March 31, 1973 and the Statements of Revenue and Expense, Operating Surplus, Reserves, Capital Provided by the Province of Alberta, Capital Surplus and Academic Pension Fund Operations for the year then ended. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the University as at March 31, 1973 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Report of the President

As the end of my term as President of The University of Alberta comes clearly into sight, I find myself studying the past development of the University almost as much as I study its future development. It seems to me that there has been no period of normality for this University. Society's reaction to our development has ranged from indifference to exuberance to hostility. Our greatest need now is for a long period of normality, a period during which our pursuit of excellence is sustained in a systematic and predictable way.

The 1972-73 year did not offer us the much-needed respite from change. Enrolments continued to decline from the peak they had reached in 1970-71, throwing a wrench into our budgetary and academic planning. A curtailment of capital expenditures meant that plans for new buildings were taken off the drawing boards and filed away. There was a feeling among some staff members that the University was being forced to whittle away at the level of excellence it had striven so conscientiously to achieve.

It was within this context that the University faced—with some trepidation, I must admit—the possibility of a dramatic alteration in its relationship with the Government of Alberta.

The Alberta Universities Commission, established under The Universities Act of 1966 to administer all university affairs and to serve as a liaison between the Government and the Alberta universities, was dissolved. Its powers and responsibilities were transferred to the Minister of Advanced Education. Although this action did not, by itself, mean that the universities had lost their autonomy, it did place a different character on the nature of the decision-making process. The reorganization of the Department of Advanced Education, and new legislation connected with that Department, created an ambiguity about the powers of universities under The Universities Act vis-a-vis powers of the Minister under the Department of Advanced Education Act.

In fairness to the Government, it has stated and restated that it will preserve the autonomy of our universities, and it will protect the academic freedom of those who work in our universities. However, our concern will not disappear until the new Universities Act comes into existence and it becomes clear to everyone that fundamental freedoms have not been lost.

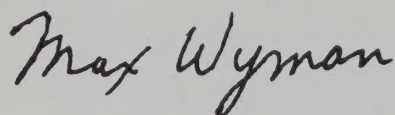

Our Board of Governors and the University community accept, at face value, the Government's statements concerning the re-writing of The Universities Act, an Act that is badly out of date. Yet there are certain principles about which there can be no compromise.

A university like The University of Alberta has and should have only two essential functions: teaching and research. Both must be strengthened, neither one at the expense of the other. If it is to be otherwise, then it will become so only by Government edict, and the present nature of the University will be destroyed. Our University must recognize that we are now a part of a system of post-secondary education, and it is a legitimate Government decision to tell us, after consultation, the part we shall play in that system. It is also a legitimate Government decision to tell us, after consultation, the financial support we shall receive. About such matters there can be no quarrel. The Government must be the ultimate authority on the spending of the public purse, and must be the ultimate authority on the provision of services for the people of this Province. Beyond this point, however, the autonomy of the University must take over.

Respect for the autonomy of an institution does not rest in a belief that the institution must be isolated from the society that supports it. Indeed, the respect for the autonomy of an institution must rest in the belief that the knowledge and wisdom that are required to make good decisions lie inside, not outside, that institution. This is not an egotistical or elitist attitude on the part of an institution, but a recognition of the faith and belief we must place in the professionalism of our society. I use the word 'professional' in a very broad sense, because universities are also professional in providing a liberal education for those who want it.

I have great faith in the future of our Province, and great faith in the future of our University. It has been of great interest to me, as well as a source of great satisfaction, to learn from a task force of the University Senate that the people of Alberta want this University to maintain or raise its present standards. All that the people of Alberta want is a chance to meet and attain those standards. At this time, and with such public support, I feel confident that the Government and the University will have a meeting of the minds: that a new Universities Act will be drafted to meet the needs of the future as we now envisage it to be.
